Does Singapore need a solar energy storage system?

SINGAPORE - As Singapore seeks to harness as much sunshine as it can to maximise its limited renewable energy sources, it needs to improve technologies that can store excess solar energy from the day. One such technology is energy storage systems (ESS), which are essentially giant batteries packed in containers that store electricity for later use.

Can a sodium-ion battery be used for energy storage in Singapore?

Posh Electric specialises in developing ESS that run on sodium-ion batteries. With the grant, the company will study the viability of this newer type of battery for energy storage in Singapore. Sodium is 1,000 times more abundant on earth compared with lithium, which has to be mined in specific areas, such as briny water and rock ores.

What types of batteries can VFlowTech store?

VFlowTech's storage system will combine two types of batteries - lithium-ion and vanadium flow - drawing on their respective strengths. The conventional lithium-ion batteries store large amounts of energy in a small space. Vanadium flow batteries are suitable for long-duration storage, and have a reduced fire risk.
